Let's Get Acquainted

Douglas Lee was born Oct. 20, 1942, in Vernal, UT. He was the fifth of seven children born to Blaine and Florence Horrocks Lee. Florence is a neice of Verna Epperson whom many of the people will remember.

Doug's home was in Vernal until he left to fill an LDS Mission in Montana and Wyoming. Just prior to filling the mission, he graduated from Uinta High School, while there he had been a member of the School Chorus and had excelled as an artist. After completing his two year mission, Doug enrolled at the University of Utah, and lived in Salt Lake City. There were good years as he was doing the thing he had hoped to do from his early childhood. He has a BA degree in Water Color, and he has a teaching certificate from the U. of U.

At the University, Doug met a young student of music, Judy Kay Hoopes. They both were intensely interested in their studies, and became good friends.

Judy Kay Hoopes was born Feb. 3, 1946, in Star Valley, Wyoming, the third of seven children born to Wayne and LaVon Calton Hoopes. Her father ran a Poultry Farm of ten thousand chickens until Judy was ten years old, then he sold his business and the family moved to Brigham, Utah, where he built up another poultry business. Judy's mother, known as Bonnie, was a homemaker until her family was grown, then she started working for the IRS. The entire Hoopes family are musically inclined, and music has been very important in their lives.

While Judy attended Box Elder High School, she belonged to the Accapella Choir and played the piano for the high school orchestra. When she graduated in 1964, she was given the "Outstanding Musicians Award." When she attended the University of Utah, she majored in music theory and earned a Bachelors Degree. She also studied voice.

Judy Kay Hoopes and Douglas Lee were married in Sept. of 1967 and continued with their studies at front and built a large room to the north side where the piano is placed leaving space for a good audience to be seated when they have concerts. Judy was the founder of the Wasatch Piano Clinic and the competition held at the end of March each year. This is sponsored by the Wasatch Arts Council. Last year there were 235 contestants from Kindergarten to the twelfth grade, held at the high school. She has been a President of the Wasatch Arts Council but resigned that position, however she is still active in the organization.

Doug has "The House of Fine Arts" at 310 North Main and D.J.'s Camera and Sound, on the corner of Main and Center. Both businesses are in Heber City, UT.

Many of Doug's paintings are in Weizler Gallery in Salt Lake City. Weizler is also an Interior Decorator of some reknown in Salt Lake, and he often uses Doug's paintings as a focal point in decorating the rooms he does.

Their oldest child, Bethany, is now fourteen years old and will be in the ninth grade this fall. She plays the piano and sings. She also enjoys swimming. A couple of weeks ago she and several people ranging to older adults acted as "Stage Mother" at the Gina Bachauer International Piano Competition held at Symphony Hall in Salt Lake City on June 21 to 30. The people in charge said that Bethany had a way of calming the contestants before and after performances. She is taking piano lessons from Dr. Paul C. Pollei, a professor of music at BYU, who is the chairman of the competition petition" held in Grand Rapids, Mich. in 1984. Winston placed in the top 20 out of 1200 contestants of all the USA (age 11 through 12 years.) He also took 2nd place in the Palm Springs, Color contest in Jan. of 1984. Judy said that most of the contestants in these contests are of oriental leniage.

Russell is ten and interested in Little League. He has a natural talent for art and writing. He wants to take guitar lessons but Judy said he must learn piano first. He practices regularly so he can start with guitar lessons. Russell brings many of his friends home to play.

Merridy is seven. She plays the piano and loves swimming. She won a blue ribbon at the County Fair for her painting. She has won a months worth of root beer at Maverick, in a coloring contest.

The family enjoys picnics, music and art, and they do a lot of play acting at home, on their tape recorder. They make a game or taping their interviewing of one another.

While I was there, Winston was host to his friend Craig Johnson. He is a fellow student of Winston's. They have presented one concert in Heber City, and two concerts in Salt Lake City in which they played duets and singles. They also like swimming and have many things in common with other twelve year olds to enjoy.

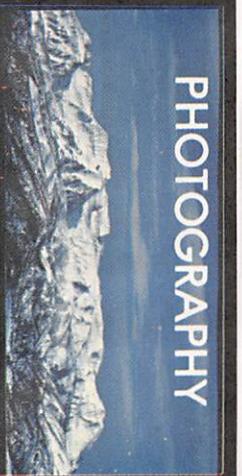

This entire family is so very talented, and they are so happy to be living in Heber City, that one feels like doing all one can to further their potentiality.
